

PROGRAM

DESCRIPTION

In light of digital business transformation, information and technology (I&T) have critical roles in supporting, sustaining and growing business.

COBIT is a framework that provides globally accepted principles, practices, tools and models to help increase the trust in, and value from an enterprise I&T.

COBIT clearly distinguishes between the governance and management objectives, and presents governance objectives in terms of evaluate, direct and monitor and management objectives as plan, build, run and monitor activities to achieve the enterprise objectives.
